

FareStart Life Skills Trainer

FareStart has an immediate opening for an experienced Life Skills Trainer. This position will have responsibility for delivering our newly developed inquiry-based curriculum and empowering our adult students to discover their own solutions and make life-impacting changes. We believe this philosophy will enhance our culinary job skills training program and directly compliment our successful outcomes.

Duties will include classroom instruction, individual coaching as well as training and integrating curriculum content into FareStart culture. This position requires a candidate that believes in partnering with our students to achieve their goals, while also understanding that the responsibility and ownership of change belongs to our students.

You have:

- A Bachelor's degree or equivalent
- Formal training on life-skills concepts and influencing change; experience with inquiry-based learning is preferred (i.e. Landmark Education)
- Minimum of five years related experience delivering life-changing curriculum
- A demonstrated coaching style reflecting compassion, wisdom and integrity
- A successful record of influencing and implementing behavior-based change
- Experience with people who are disadvantaged
- A confirmed style of soft skills including strategic thinking, supportive influence and an ability to balance both listening and planned action

We are:

- A successful organization that trains homeless and disadvantaged individuals for jobs in the culinary industry, empowering them to transform their lives.
- A progressive and healthy non-profit with an annual budget over $6m with business revenue funding almost 50%. More information can be found at: www.farestart.org.

Compensation Package

- Base pay typically ranges $38,000-$45,000 annually (depending on experience and qualifications)
- Featured benefits include generous paid time off, health insurances, annual bus pass and short/long term disability
