SEATTLE (March 27, 2018) - Maslow's by Farestart has launched a new monthly event series called Burgers + Brews at Maslow's in partnership with some of the Northwest's more celebrated craft breweries. Each burger and brew pairing is priced at $20 and will be available at Maslow's – both in its energetic bar space and on the main dining room menu – on that day only.

Located in South Lake Union, Maslow's by FareStart is a classic American restaurant featuring small and large plates that stand alone or can be shared, created by our renowned chefs alongside FareStart apprentices and served fresh daily for lunch, happy hour and dinner. In addition to the new Burgers + Brews event series, patrons may enjoy one of Seattle's hottest Happy Hours weekdays from 3 – 6 p.m. with $3 draft beer, $4 draft wine and $5 well liquor selections.

The restaurant takes its name from Abraham Maslow who developed the well-known theory of motivation called the hierarchy of needs. This aligns with the FareStart mission of empowerment and demonstrates the reason for the restaurant – to provide the next level of needs to help move people toward a living wage on their journey to security and self-sufficiency. Every dollar of profit from Maslow's is reinvested in programs to recruit, train and support its students and apprentices.

About Snoqualmie Valley Brewing Co:

Founded in 1997, Snoqualmie Valley Brewing Co. is a small company located in historic downtown Snoqualmie, Wash. Our original beers were formulated by founder Pat Anderson with the initial batch of each brewed by David McKibben. Of Pat's original beers, only Wildcat IPA remains today. In early 1998, Rande Reed, formerly head brewer of Thomas Kemper and Pyramid, became head brewer and is ably assisted with production by Kevin Gesell and John Gilroy. Our Taproom expanded in 2011, and an extensive renovation of the Kitchen is underway to introduce hamburgers, French fries and fish & chips by April 1. We plan to have an outside seating area open by June 1. We feature 10 year-round beers, 4 seasonals and 3 special release beers in addition to our acclaimed root beer. fallsbrew.com

About Bale Breaker Brewing Co.: Crafting fresh-off-the-farm brews from the middle of a hop field, Bale Breaker is a family-owned brewery located in the Yakima Valley. About Maritime Pacific Brewing Co:

Maritime Pacific Brewing Company was founded in February of 1990 in the industrial area of Ballard, when small breweries were just beginning to make their mark upon the Northwest. The idea of brewing beers here in the Northwest that were similar to those in Europe was nothing new, but the idea of brewing Northwest Style beers was just beginning to stimulate the local imagination. As the "lucky 13th" licensed manufacturer of beer in Washington State, including breweries like Rainier and Lucky, Maritime Pacific faced the challenge: to produce beers based upon established beer styles, but enhanced to satisfy the Northwest beer lover's diverse palate. Over the last 27 years, we are still in Ballard and have given those beer lovers of the Northwest more than 50 different ales and lagers, such as Old Seattle Lager, Jolly Roger Christmas Ale, Islander Pale Ale, Imperial IPA, Nightwatch Dark Ale and more. We will continue the challenge and prove that "Beer is so much more than a Breakfast Drink"! Thank you, Seattle, for believing in beer. www.maritimebrewery.com

About Lowercase Brewing:

We are a small, local brewery in South Seattle that's just over four years old. We brew classically styled, simple beers and find that our customers have come to appreciate our subtler approach. Our brewery's not an academy. It's not a science lab. It's a place to make beer. And have a beer. A good one, hopefully a great one! You can find our product on draft around the City, at your local Farmers Market or at our Georgetown Taproom. www.lowercasebrewing.com
