

COVID-19 UPDATE

When COVID-19 struck, we transformed our kitchens and redeployed staff to help ensure individuals and families across the Seattle area would not go hungry. FareStart increased meals to reduce food security, moved to virtual training programs and temporarily closed most of our social enterprise businesses.

FACT SHEET

FareStart is a real solution to some of our society's most pressing challenges—homelessness, joblessness, poverty and hunger. Our model works because we are both an effective social service provider and a thriving social enterprise.

People in poverty struggle to escape the cycle they are in and often face additional compounding barriers to getting and keeping a job. At FareStart, we help people overcome those barriers by teaching them work and life skills they need to succeed in the foodservice industry and in life while providing wraparound support, including housing, mental health support and substance use counseling.

Through our restaurant, cafés, catering and programs that provide meals to social services, shelters and schools, participants in our programs get practical work experience while giving back to their community.

FareStart transforms lives, disrupts poverty and nourishes communities through food, life skills and job training.

Job Training Programs

We have two training programs in the Seattle area:

- Adult Culinary Program combines computer skills, culinary training, resume building, individual case management, self-empowerment coaching and job placement services for adults 18 and older. The program provides the tools, training and support to put graduates on the path to employment.
- Youth & Young Adult Barista Program is built around the needs of young people 16-24 who are street-involved. The program teaches barista and customer service skills through classroom instruction, job-readiness training, on-the-job experience and job placement support.

National Consulting & Membership Network: In 2010, FareStart launched its Catalyst Kitchens initiative to support nonprofits across the country that address poverty, joblessness and hunger. We provide training, resources and consulting support to launch and grow foodservice job training social enterprises that help people develop skills for a life-changing career and reduce food insecurity. FareStart stewards a national membership network made up of more than 80 nonprofit organizations.

Social Enterprise Businesses

Our Seattle restaurant and cafés offer excellent food along with a meaningful dining experience. Here, our students get real-world job experience, while revenue from our social enterprise businesses help fund our programs.

FareStart Restaurant

Our flagship restaurant, which is open weekdays for lunch, is award-winning for both the quality of its cuisine and the impact of its mission. Each Thursday, we host Guest Chef Night, where guests enjoy a three-course gourmet meal prepared by a different guest chef from the community. Private dining available. Home of FareStart's Adult Culinary Program.

Downtown: 700 Virginia St.

FareStart Café

Two cafés that offer coffee, tea and other beverages along with a variety of breakfast and lunch options. Home of FareStart's Youth & Young Adult Barista Program.

South Lake Union: 399 Fairview Ave N - In the lobby of Amazon's Houdini North

Community & School Meals

Continuing and celebrating FareStart's founding mission to serve healthful meals to those who need them, our Community Meals Program provides tasty and nutritious meals for homeless shelters, low-income childcare centers and schools around the Seattle area - 365 days a year. Since 1992, we have prepared more than 14.5 million meals, each made by our students and staff, from scratch, with the freshest possible ingredients.

Our Impact

FareStart has been helping people transform their lives through food for nearly 30 years - one person, one job and one community at a time.
